Unraveling the greater mystery within the spiral of each nuclear point guides us into the “Now Moment” where true healing, peace, and understanding emerges. By exploring our positive and negative creations, and by following the spiral of life, we can find the nucleus, a place at which all things come together in one point of creation.

We will explore some of idealized images, mass images, and main images, which are thought patterns and beliefs based on past experiences, which no longer apply, to locate the interlocking spirals of creative awakening. We will explore how we contribute to both positive and negative expression of these energies, and then track the spiral energy of creation into the “Now Moment,” while expanding our capacity for entering into a state of bliss.

Join Donna and Bernadette for a weekend in which we will expand our capacity for experiencing bliss, access our consciousness and feelings, open to energetic work through our bodies, experience ritual, music, and prayer to nurture our spirit, all within the safety of a loving group container.
